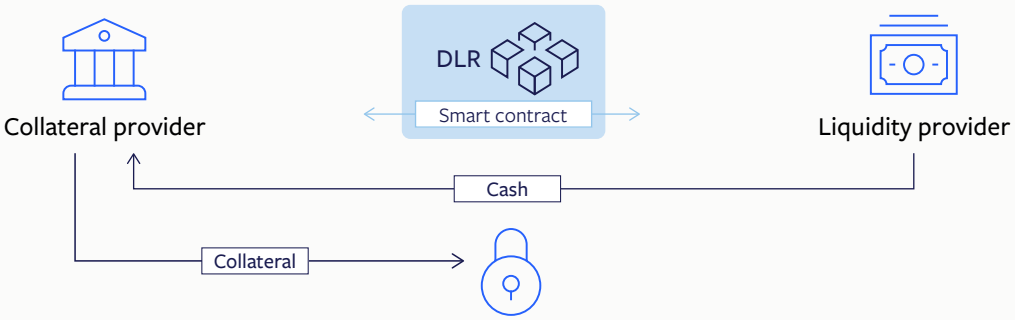
Intraday Repo on Distributed Ledger Repo

Put available cash to work with fully collateralized intraday repo and earn incremental yield while maintaining the liquidity and control you need.



Put idle cash to work

Turn the time between trades into an opportunity to earn incremental yield on available cash without overnight counterparty exposure.

Gain a shared view of the transaction

Smart contracts transfer ownership of tokenized collateral, giving both parties a single shared record of truth.

Maintain liquidity with confidence

No need to choose between deploying available excess cash and maintaining liquidity.

Work within existing processes

Repo trades are executed as they are today and continue to flow through existing risk management and finance systems.

Make every hour count. DLR puts available cash to work through fully collateralized intraday repo on a single shared ledger, helping you earn incremental yield while maintaining liquidity, control, and transparency.
