

Reg BI disclosures made easy

Streamline compliance with the Broadridge Smart Distribution Hub.

June 30, 2020 was just the start.

Firms across the U.S. successfully geared up for mass distribution of required disclosures to meet the June 30, 2020 Regulation Best Interest (Reg BI) compliance date. But the bigger challenge will be ensuring compliance in the months that follow. Under the new regulation, disclosures aren't just for clients anymore. Prospects must also receive Form CRS. That requires efficient frontline triggers and back-end distribution.

BROADRIDGE MAKES COMPLIANCE SIMPLE.

The Broadridge Smart Distribution Hub streamlines Reg BI disclosures, end to end. Integration with CRM empowers advisors to trigger disclosures from within familiar workflows. A simple search function lets them select from thousands of documents via the proprietary Smart Library® document repository. Email templates enable quick, brand-compliant personalization. Firms benefit from the efficiencies of Broadridge document distribution engines that assemble and send communications in compliant order. And advisor actions, complete with a record of the disclosures disseminated, are captured within the Hub's reporting.

IT'S NOT JUST FOR REG BI.

Many firms use Reg BI as impetus to conduct broader reviews of disclosure management—and discover that the Broadridge Smart Distribution Hub can bring new cost efficiency and control across disclosures. Scalable and rules-driven, the Hub supports versioning, version-history tracking and suppression logic. It accommodates up to 255 documents in a single delivery.
