Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Matrix Trust Multi-Manager Stable Value Fund (the "Fund") is to earn current income that is relatively consistent over time, while preserving capital and maintaining relative stability of principal. The Fund pursues this objective by investing primarily in high quality stable value investment contracts and other investments as described below.

Portfolio Construction

The Fund invests in four account contracts issued by insurance companies. When the Fund invests in such an account, the Fund enters into a specific contract with an insurance company who agrees to provide book value and a minimum return guarantee. As with wrapped fixed income investments, the account's assets are invested in fixed income investments pursuant to established investment guidelines. The Fund will invest in an account only if the insurance company has received a rating of at least A from a ratings service at the time of acquisition.

Regarding the Fee/Expense information, including the Net Expense Ratio and the Fee Per $1,000, not all compensation earned by the insurance companies is included within this information. Most of the insurance company accounts comprising the Fund's portfolio have no stated compensation amount paid to the insurance companies. While these accounts (Great-West Life and Annuity, Lincoln Financial Group, and Transamerica Life Insurance Group) have no explicit fees charged by the insurance companies, such accounts are likely to have implicit fees as "spread" products. With a "spread" product, the insurance company providing the guarantee of the account intends to earn a profit by earning higher interest income than the income it credits to the account, retaining the difference as compensation. The insurance companies do not disclose the amount of spread they earn and are not legally responsible to pass all of the earnings to investors in a product. Only New York Life Anchor Account discloses the insurance company's fee, 35 bps. The New York Life Insurance Company fee is the only insurance company fee included in the Net Fund Level Expense Ratio on the previous page.
